

TransKids: Support & Social Circle

Looking for a community of children and families who share your experiences?

Maybe you have found some likeminded families online. Maybe you've even found support for the adults in your family. And maybe you are still searching for a safe, supportive circle for your child where their gender identity will not only be accepted... it will be celebrated and understood.

We are more than embracing, we are experienced. Sanctuary Counseling has been serving TransKids and Genderfluid/Nonbinary children for over a decade. We know how to help your child better understand themselves, and to help them make friends.
